

Says

Thinks

The election commission of india need to increase the number of voters

The people imagines that new government will form

The competition among parliamentary constituency seats will increase

They wants one election for india both as parliamentary and legislative elections

The people wants election commission of india to connects the aadhar card and voter id

People expects more polling booths in hilly regions

Political juggernauts ; A quantitative analysis of candidates in the 2019 lok sabha elections

There are 8039 candidates contesting for 542 parliamentary seats

The people feels that national parties are contesting in 542 parliamentary constituency seats

The Election Commission of india recognises parties based on their performance in previous elections

On average 14.2 candidates are contesting per constituency

The election commission of india expects 100 percentage of voting on election

People wants election commission of india to conducts legislative assembly election

Does

Feels

